Mrs. Pete Monaghan came into the newsroom to pay for her husband's obituary. She was told by the kind newsman that it was a dollar a word.

The newsman remembered Pete and was sorry to hear of his passing. Mrs. Pete Monaghan thanked the newsman for his kind words and bemoaned the fact that she only had two dollars. But she wrote out the obituary, "Pete died."

The newsman said he thought old Pete deserved more and he'd give her three more words at no charge. Mrs. Pete Monaghan thanked him and rewrote the obituary: "Pete died. Boat for sale."

DON'T BE A MONEY MULE

Criminals are crafty. They use elaborate stories and false identities to gain trust and create money mules - someone that criminals use to launder illegally obtained money. This can be done by using bank accounts, checks, money orders and or wire transfers.

Avoid becoming a money mule with these tips:

- never share personal information
- never respond to offers to earn easy money
- never open joint accounts with strangers
- never accept personal/business checks or money orders sent by a stranger
- never send money on behalf of or receive money from a stranger
